THE EVERY-DAY DARLING.

She is neither a beauty nor genius,
And no one would call her wise;
In a crowd of other women
She would draw no stranger's eyes;
Even we who love her are puzzled
To say where her preciousness lies;
She is just an every-day darling,
In that her preciousness lies.

She is sorry when others are sorry,
So sweetly, one likes to be sad;
And if people around her are merry,
She is almost gladder than glad.
Her sympathy is the sweetest,
The truest a heart ever had;
She is just an every-day darling,
The dearest that hearts ever had.

Her hands are so white and little,
It seems as if it were wrong,
They should ever work for a moment,
And yet they are quick and strong,
If any dear one needs helping,
She'll work the whole day long.

She is loyal as knights were loyal
In the days when no knights lied,
And for sake of love or honor,
If it need be, a true knight died;
But she dreams not she is braver
Than the woman by her side,
This precious, every-day darling
Who makes sunshine at our side.

Ah, envy her, beauty and genius,
And women the world calls wise;
The utmost of all your triumphs
Would be empty in her eyes.
To love and be loved is her kingdom:
In this her happiness lies,
God bless her the every-day darling,
In this her preciousness lies.

"Mother."

It is the cry of the infant, just from the cradle; it is the only balm that will heal the wounded heart in youthful days. "Mother, I'm hurt," mother I'm tired," "mother, sing to me, tell me stories." It is always "mother" with the child and b... No one like mother. No hand that falls on the fevered brow as softly as her's; no words so sympathetic as those that pass her lips. The house would be a grave without her. Life would be a dreary, thorny road without her warning voice and guiding hand. A father may be kind, may love not less, but the wearied child wants the mother's arms, soft lullaby songs; the carresses of her gentle hand. All childhood is a mixture of tears and joys. A kind word brings a smile, a harsh word, a sigh, a fall is pain, a toss is joy. The first footsteps, weak and trembling, grow strong by the guiding hand of a mother's love.

The little wounds, the torn clothes, the headaches, the heartaches, the trials all vanish at the word of a mother, and there is built up in the heart of every man an edifice of love and respect that no crime of his can topple down—no dungeon cell affect. And a lad grows to be a man only to find that "mother" is the same. If he errs, she weeps; if he is good and manly, she rejoices. Her's is the only love that lasts—endures forever.

The wolf of starvation may enter the door, but her love is only tried to shine the brighter. All the world may call her son a criminal, but the mother only believes it not. Trials may beset you, storms gather over you, vexation come, rain drag you down, but there is one who ever stands firm in your cause, who will never leave you. The criminal on the scaffold has suffered in feeling because his bad deeds would cause a pang in mother's heart. The low and wretched, dying in some abode of sin, have died with the name upon their lips. There is no praise like her praise, there are no sad tears that pain us so much as hers.

A Hard Bed to Fill.

The junior editor of the Gallatin is noted for his modesty. When school boys he and the writer were inseparable companions, probably because we both stood in such holy awe of "the gals." A pair of mischievous black eyes would stampede us quicker than a "big dog." One day "Bob" was sent to neighbor Shaw's to inquire about some straw for filling beds, and of course the writer went with him. Mr. Shaw was the father of six hateful girls that had rather laugh at a fellow than not and when we arrived they were all seated at dinner. I dodged behind the corner while Bob edged carefully in at the door, and with a scared look stammered, "Mr. Straw, can you let me have enough Shaw to fill my bed?" "Well, R——," said the old gentleman, glancing around the circle of astonished faces, "I suppose so; here are six beside the old woman; but I'd rather you'd leave her if the girls will be enough. Take them all, and God bless you." Perfect shrieks of laughter went up from the mean things, and Mr. R—— took to his heels followed by the writer and cries from the old man to come back, he'd "throw in the old woman too."

An Easy Way of Being Witty.

Oriental travelers say that a Chinese gentleman thinks it beneath his dignity to manufacture his own witticisms. He appreciates wit, and is fond of tea, but he would as soon grow his own tea as make his own jokes. When he goes into society he carries in his pocket a package of of prepared witticisms and repartees, which he has purchased at the nearest joke shop. When conversation flags, and he perceives an opportunity of saying something brilliant, he draws a humorous remark from the top of his package and gravely hands it to his neighbor. The latter as gravely reads it, and selecting from his bundle of repartees the one which is appropriate, returns it, with a bow, to the original joker. The two then solemnly smile in a courteous and undemostrative way, and resume their conversation, feeling that they have aquitted themselves with conspicuous brilliancy.

—There are 900 lunatics in the three State Lunatic Hospitals of New York. On the average, each lunatic costs over $6 a week. In three similar institutions of Massachusetts each inmate costs less than $4 a week; and in the Willard Asylum for the Insane in New York the cost for maintaining each lunatic is but little more than $3 a week. Dr. Earle, of the Northampton, Mass., Hospital, says that not more than 40 per cent. of the insane recover permanently, even when treated at the outset of their disease.

BEN. A DEWES, Oakland.

THE Record-Union thus expresses its opinions of the recent enforced resignation of Postmaster General Jewell:

To remove such a man for any cause short of actual misconduct would have been unpardonable. To remove him for the sake of [illegible] the very corrupt system which has produced the degradation of the public service is a crime deserving [illegible] the teeth of Governor Hayes' letter of acceptance—almost it might be called an insult [illegible] President Grant deliberately tramples under foot the platform of the Republican party and gives the world the most flagrant illustration of political immorality it has seen for half a century.

Opinions quite as severe as the above are going the round of many of the Republican papers and the Democrats are very much exercised because everything that Grant does is not apologized for or defended by his party press. In such matters the Democrats are different. No matter what one of their office holders may do, the party will sustain him.

THE Oakland Democrats are not conspicuous on account of their harmony, as nearly every man among them wants to run the machine. In order to have as many Presidents, Secretaries and Executive Committees as possible, they propose to have clubs in each ward. This will knock the foundation from the older club that has heretofore managed things. The boys never had a fair show there anyway, and they have concluded to leave alone in their glory those bloated aristocrats who wear clean shirts and broadcloth.

THE mud machines will soon be brought to the front, and the bombardment of the rival candidates is about to commence. Alluding to some of the stuff set in circulation about Tilden the New York Times asks: "If the Republicans, who claim to be the more decent of the two parties, are beginning in this way, what will it be when the foul mouthed loafers of the other side get fairly warmed to their work? They can certainly excel the Republicans, as blackguards, and prudence if not a love of decency should keep them out of such a contest."

TOM SHANNON has been nominated for another term as Collector. We believe that he has filled the office honestly and efficiently. The great fault to be found with him is that Billy Carr can dictate his appointments, or could do so in the past. If we have Hayes and reform this peculiar influence can no longer be exerted. If the head of a Federal Department has some security of the tenure of his office he will naturally be more independent and take a greater pride in making a good record.

IT is apparent that the public does not understand the nature of the city ordinance respecting nuisances. The subject is within the jurisdiction of the police department. It is the business of an officer to complain against one who maintains a nuisance, just as he must complain against any other offender, and trial of the case must be had in the Police Court. The ordinance requires the Health Officer to make an inspection so as to testify, but proceedings cannot originate with him under the older ordinances which have been superseded.

IT is reported that Ben Butler has taken his carpet bag and removed to another district, for the purpose of running for Congress. There is danger that the machine politicians will control the nominations of many Congressmen, selecting unfit men, in the expectation that the popularity of Hayes and Wheeler will pull them through. In this they will find their mistake, for the best of Republicans are quite ready to scratch the name of a candidate they do not like, if they consider his opponent a better man.

ON the silver question, California presents the same attitude toward Nevada, that the East does toward California. We are shipping large quantities of trade dollars to Virginia City, where the people are foolish enough to take them at par. The East ships other kinds of silver currency to California, not worth as much as greenbacks, and we are circulating it as if it were nearly as good as gold. A few people are becoming rich through the inequality of the different kinds of currency, and the masses are to that extent the poorer.

WE admire pluck and energy and the managers of the Chronicle have both. They have at last succeeded in securing first-class telegraphic reports from the East, after making a tremendous fight, and the improved character of the paper and probable increase of business will fully compensate them for their outlay.

The decapitation of many more [illegible] who were appointed under [illegible] is soon to take place.

[illegible] H. Van Dorsell [illegible]

THE UNWRITTEN PLATFORM.

The platforms given to the country by the two great political parties will have trifling influence in shaping the minds of the people. The public feel that they are but the utterances of two sets of politicians animated by selfish purposes, one class desiring to retain the offices and the other set desiring to secure them. The letters of acceptance by candidates are vastly more important. Governor Hayes has announced his belief in a certain line of policy which is exactly what is needed. The letter of Governor Tilden is yet to be made public and we doubt not that it will be an excellent document. There is beyond these an unwritten platform, to be gathered from a variety of sources, that would be the real controlling force in the next campaign. The animus shown by each party in the past will have much to do shaping the course of voters, while the present surroundings of the candidates will be a potent influence in attracting or repelling the people. The many stories against Tilden which were set afloat by the Canal ring to prevent his nomination, are now revived by a certain class of newspapers but they look too much like the reports cooked up against Bristow, to have any weight. The independent voter will be apt to regard Hayes and Tilden as equally honest and equally determined to effect such reforms as may be in his power.

The very first objection to the Democratic ticket will be the fact that the head of it is the only representative of the reform and honest money sentiment. Hendricks is an able but unscrupulous and time-serving politician, an exponent of the machine system of politics, the reverse of Tilden. As Tilden is an old man, the probabilities are in favor of his death before the expiration of the next Presidental term. Then the old fashioned rough Democracy would be in the ascendent. If he survives he will have very little power, acting in hostility to the dominant element of his party. The members of his Cabinet the men with whom he must daily consult will be opposed to any aggressive policy of reform, and the thousands who will have contributed towards his success, must be rewarded with appointments to office. The Liberal who desires to see Tilden elected and the rest of his party kept in the back ground is longing for an impossibility. The situation is quite different on the Republican side. There is no such contrast between the nominees for President and Vice President the country would have been as well satisfied if Wheeler had been at the head of the ticket. The personal surroundings of each will command respect. The machine politicians will be kept at a respectful distance, no such gang as Grant associates with will control the policy of the Government. They are not, like Tilden and Hendricks under obligations to any set of politicians for their nominations and there can be no presumption in favor of their combining with persons to whom they are in no way indebted.

The desires and prejudices of the masses who constitute the two parties will largely control the policy of each. It is notorious that among the Democrats, the low ignorant and illiterate predominate. To that party belong all the enemies of the school system, and the hierarchy that controls them is bending every energy to compass their destruction. The ranks of the Republican party are filled with people of a different and more responsible class, one which represents the intelligence, the industry and patriotism of the Nation. To please Republicans, an administration must be high minded and actuated by a strict regard for principle. The declamation of demagogues will satisfy the main portion of Democracy. The many differences that will occur to any observer are sharply defined and they make up those great unwritten platforms upon which the rival candidates have become applicants for public favor. The more thoughtful and effective speeches of the campaign will dwell upon these points, rather that the formal declarations that will be before the country.

MR BRISTOW has written a letter announcing his intention to take the stump for Hayes and Wheeler. Some over-zealous Republicans have been saying mean things about him, on the supposition that he got mad at his defeat and would take no further part in politics. If the people believed that Bristow would be Secretary of the Treasury in the event of a Republican success, the ticket would be considerably strengthened.

DURING the last harvest year one hundred and seventy four vessels were loaded with grain or flour, for exportation. Of them, seventy five were loaded at San Francisco, thirty-five at Oakland and sixty-four at Vallejo. It is estimated that six hundred ship loads will be exported this year, in which case there will be much business as can possibly be attended to at the three prominent shipping points in the State.

FOR a change the President has just written a little note which will meet the approval of everybody. He gives his full consent for all members and ex-members of his Cabinet to testify freely before the investigating committees and not shield themselves behind the privileged character of communications between Government officers.

—"When will America learn to economize material?" writes a looker on in Paris. "The yearly sum of five thousand francs is paid by one man here for the privilege of laying clean, fresh straw over the floor of a butter market, which, when removed, yields back the butter which is fingered and chewed and tasted and rejected through the day. The straw is thrown into hot water and the butter rising to the top is purified and sold to pastry cooks. As it is reasonable to suppose that the poorest butter is not swallowed by the tasters—it puts one quite out of conceit of pie crust."

TWO OPINIONS.

The Christian Advocate says:

No sane man believes that the army will civilize or Christianize any barbarous people. The officers, though disposed to be just, upright and humane, are not teachers. The soldiers as a rule are destitute of Christian morality. That they debauch the Indians in all cases, when within reach of them, is well known to all who have had opportunity for observation. * * * * The Senate are entitled to the thanks of the humane, and all true friends of the much abused Indian people for defeating the bill which proposed to break up the present Christian policy.

In contrast with the above, we present the following from the Commercial World, which looks at such questions in a very practical manner:

It was manifest two years ago that they were on the eve of outbreak and were preparing for war, but, instead of being promptly checked by the military forces, they were preached to and prayed to, and cheated and cozzened and quietly permitted to complete their arrangements by the "Quaker Policy" advocates and their agents, many of whom have doubtlessly secured fat contracts for transportation and supplies. Let us have no more of these inexcusable expensive and bloody sophistries.

The sentimental policy has been followed for a century and there has been a success of Indian wars of great magnitude resulting in the loss of thousands of lives and many millions of dollars. The Indians have not become quiet persons or Christians, but are as thoroughly Indians as ever. The army could not make a worse failure than the missionaries have, that is apparent.

SILVER LEGISLATION.

The repudiation of more than ten per cent of all public and private debts, as proposed by Senator Jones is not likely to be authorized this year or ever. The subject has been very fully ventillated and what seems to some like good financiering is by most pronounced an attempt to swindle. The present policy of Congress as indicated by the vote of yesterday, is to provide enough silver coin for the wants of trade, limiting the amount to fifty millions dollars. The effort to order the coinage of the old silver dollar and make it a legal tender for any amount has been permanently defeated. The scheme which has been advocated by Senator Jones has been dishonest in its nature and the strong backing he had secured had begun to alarm the Nation's creditors. It was as bold as if the persons who own the nickel mines had to make a conspiracy to force an unlimited quantity of their metal upon the people, at a fictitious valuation. The inflationists have been in favor of making an unlimited legal tender of silver and we presume that there are plenty among them who would be favorable to giving the same character to paper if there were any chance to pay Government bonds in that metal and by such financiering save money to the Government.

Drunk and Soapy.

A man having the appearance of a sailor was found lying down in a sleepy condition at Barnum's corner on Broadway and Seventh yesterday. A self-constituted jury gathered around him. Some believed him to be in a state of coma, others that he had had two watches on deck the previous night; a learned hackman stated that the man was in a soporific condition. This opinion prevailed, owing to the fact that half a dozen bars of soap purchased for use on shipboard were lying by his side. Officer McKay came along, and having a strong sense of smell, called out, "It's whisky; put him in a hack and drive him to the City Hall." A simple charge of drunk was entered against him.

Real Estate.

The real estate market of Oakland is still in a firm condition. Sales of property are constantly being effected. The greatest demand is for property ranging from four to five thousand dollars. The property on Seventh street between Broadway and Oakland Dock has gone up greatly in price since the improvements have been made by the Company on the city front. There is a greater desire to buy in this locality than there is to sell, but only along Seventh street, but also on the streets adjacent and lying between the above named points. Houses for rent are still in good demand in all parts of the city. Especially of this class ranging from twenty to fifty dollars per month.

Shooting Scrape.

Two Frenchmen residing at Alameda, quarreled yesterday about a woman, when one of them shot the other with a revolver. Two shots were fired, one ball entering the man's breast and passing near the heart, and the other penetrated his abdomen. The wounds are both dangerous, and the man is not expected to live. The shooting took place in the kitchen of the boarding house of Mr. Glass, corner of Park street and Railroad avenue. The shots were fired by Jule Janin de Criquit, and the wounded man's name is Dahling.

Severely Injured.

A horse attached to a buggy came dashing down Broadway last evening, and it happened to reach the corner of Seventh street just as a lady was crossing from the train to a street car. She had not time to get out of the way, and was knocked down by the horse and severely bruised. She was taken to her home at the corner of Twenty-ninth and Filbert streets, and upon a surgical examination no bones were found broken.

Old Coin.

There is a good deal of old coin in circulation just now, consisting of half dollars and quarters. Some of them dating back to the beginning of this century. It is probable that this coin has been brought to the coast by the numerous immigrants that are constantly pouring in upon us. It is likely that some of these coin are the carefully hoarded earnings of years.

Auction Sale.

Messrs. Bankhead & Sons will sell at auction to-morrow, on the premises opposite the postoffice, East Oakland, a large lot of new and second-handed household furniture, and the building containing a store and four rooms with lease of ground. See advertisement.

Poll Tax.

The time for collecting the $2,000 poll tax expired on the 1st of this month. The delinquents are now subject by law to pay $3 00 and if that amount is not paid by 1st of October then the tax will be increased to $4 00, and if unpaid at that time it becomes a lien on the property.

Thistleton.

The Grand Jury have indicted Thistleton, publisher of the Jolly Giant, on two charges of libel, and a bench warrant for his arrest has been issued, and doubtless will be served by the time the TRIBUNE is issued to-day. This action of the Grand Jury will take the matter out of the Police Court.

A MUSICAL TRIUMPH.

Grand Success of Morgan's Centennial Jubilee Concert.

Oakland's Beauty, Youth and Talent at Dietz's Opera House Last Night.

The Centennial Jubilee Concert given at Dietz's Opera House last evening, under direction of John P. Morgan, was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever attempted in this City. The high reputation of Mr. Morgan and of the other artists whose names appeared on the programme, led the public to expect a rich treat, and of course every seat in the capacious Opera House was secured. The audience was one of the most critical, and its approving judgment was very flattering to the performers. We never attended a concert anywhere that was so successful and so thoroughly satisfactory in all respects as that given under the direction of Mr. Morgan last night.

THE PROGRAMME

Was very judiciously selected and admirably carried out. It would exceed our limits to give here an extended criticism of this excellent performance in detail, and we can only refer briefly to some of the most striking features. The Jubilee Overture (Von Weber), was a master-piece, most perfectly rendered. A ballet (Morley) by the Glee Club,

"My bonny lass she smileth," was charming. "Finale of Violin Concerto" (Max Bruch), by Louis Schmidt, Jr., was enthusiastically received by the audience, and expressions of admiration at the young artist's superb playing were heard on all sides. The aria

"In native worth,"

(from Haydn's "Creation"), was grandly rendered by Charles Pflueger. The song

"The Children's Kingdom,"

(Blumenthal), was charmingly and artistically rendered by Mrs. John Trehane. One of the most charming pieces on the programme was the part-song entitled "Sea Fern," words by Mrs. John P. Morgan, and music by John P. Morgan:

Tangled and tossed by the wilful sea;
What is thy secret? tell it me;
Where is thy home, thou foam-tossed spray,
Left 'mongst the rocks by the surf's rude play?
Ah me! woe's me! thou wilful sea;
Thy smile itself is treachery—
This delicate fern from thy bosom flung,
This dainty thing from thy dark heart wrung
Wind-tossed and wind-driven by thee,
Is my love, my LOVE, thou greedy sea.
Is the heart of my heart, thou merciless sea!
Say wilt thou give him again to me?

The song is a poetic gem, the musical composition most appropriate, and it was perfectly rendered. Part First concluded with one of Rubenstein's brilliant songs,

"The Dew is Sparkling,"

by Oakland's favorite, Miss Clara Beutler, who rendered the exquisite production in her best style, eliciting enthusiastic demonstrations of approval from the audience.

PART SECOND

Opened with Bayard Taylor's national song, music by John P. Morgan:

Waken voice of the land's devotion;
Spirit of Freedom awaken all;
Ring ye shores to the song of Ocean,
Rivers answer, and mountains call!
The golden day has come:
Let every tongue be dumb
That sounded its malice or murmured its fears;
She hath won her story,
She wears her glory,
We crown her the land of a Hundred years!

Out of darkness and toil and danger
Into the light of Victory's day;
Help to the weak and home to the stranger,
Freedom to all, she hath held her way.
Now Europe's orphans rest
Upon her mother's breast:
The voices of Nations are heard in the cheers,
That shall cast upon her
New love and honor
And crown her the queen of a Hundred years!

North and South we are met as brothers:
East and West we are wedded as one;
Right of each shall secure our mother's;
Child of each is her faithful son!
We give thee heart and hand
Our glorious native land,
For battle has tried thee, and time endears:
We will write thy story,
And keep thy glory,
As pure as of old for a Thousand years.

It is one of the grandest patriotic compositions ever written, and it is saying a great deal to characterize Morgan's musical conception as in every respect equal to the subject. It is a master-piece—a grand triumph of musical genius; an achievement in musical composition that stamps Mr. Morgan as a master. Several attempts have been made by composers in various portions of the country to set these words by Taylor to music, but they have all been pronounced failures. Morgan and his friends may well be proud of his grand success. The audience last night was very demonstrative in its expressions of congratulation at this triumph of musical genius, and insisted on a repetition of the piece, which was given.

MORGAN'S SKETCHES

For violin and piano, by Miss Beutler and Mr. Schmidt were charmingly rendered and enthusiastically received. "The Monk" (song from Meyerbeer) was rendered in perfect style by Fred Borneman, after which Miss Beutler rendered in her most charming style, the song,

"My love he built me a bonny bower,"

Music by John P. Morgan. "Liberty"—a duet from I. Puritani (Bellini) was splendidly rendered by Walter Campbell and Fred. Borneman. The concert ended with Beethoven's Finale of Fifth Symphony. It is the expresed wish unanimously of those who enjoyed this entertainment last night that it be repeated at an early date, and we trust that the wish will be gratified.

Democratic Ratification.

The grand Democratic Rally to-morrow evening will be addressed by Governor Irwin, Hon. H. H. Haight, Robert Ferral and others. Judge Stanley will preside. The enthusiasm among the rank and file will no doubt cause a large turnout. Good old Democratic doctrines will again be heard, and the challenge so boldly given at the Republican Ratification meeting will be accepted. After Saturday evening the parties will be in line, and the noise of battle will be heard until November.

Tempting.

A woman whom it would be gross flattery to call a poet, writes a "poem" to El Kader Journal, beginning:

I'm sweet sixteen, sweet as a peach
Swinging on a limb, won't anybody reach
For me.

If the above should reach the eye of her father, and he is capable of rising to the level of the occasion, he will probably take a lath, or a trunk strap or some light article of the sort, and reach for her.

Only Ten Cents.

Ladies' White Cotton Hose, 10c per pair, at the Great Eastern Auction House, corner of Eighth and Broadway. *

Brooklyn Literary Society.

This flourishing Society held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday evening last, and had a full attendance.

Mr. Elliot read an interesting essay on music.

The Committe on the debate was composed of Messrs. Rector, Wood and Reed. Critic of the evening, Mr. Barter. Time keeper, Mr. Newsom.

After reading the Society paper by Mr. Wood and Miss Sweeney, the debate took place on the question, "Resolved, that the Americans overestimate themselves as a nation. Affirmative—Messrs. Crawford and Newsom. Negative—Messrs. Holiday and Barnes. Miss Liese, the Vice-President, occupied the Chair. Question decided in the negative. After some miscellaneous exercises, and the report of the Critic, the meeting adjourned.

A Burglar Captured.

On the day of the third instant the house of Chas. Carleton, No. 260 Ninth street was burglariously entered, while Mr. Carleton and family were over to the city, witnessing the famous sham naval battle, and some clothing, a watch and chain and $5 in cash stolen therefrom. The burglary was not reported for several days, but as soon as it was, officers Summers and Taylor took the matter in hand and arrested the man yesterday. Owen Duffy alias Murphy, is the burglar as evidenced by many proofs developed. He is one of a gang of these hoodlum thieves that hung around Montgomery Queen's circus. His case will immediately go before the present Grand Jury.

Real Estate Sale To-Morrow.

Buyers of real estate will not forget that Woodward & Taggart will commence selling some valuable real estate by auction to-morrow at 2 P. M. in their salesroom on Eight street. There are nine splendid lots of property to dispose of and all the particulars relating to their size, location, etc., will be found in our advertising columns. Messrs. Woodward & Taggart are careful business men—not given to over statement—and they assert they have never before offered a better class of property for sale in Oakland. Many of the lots are situated in localities that will ere long become active business places. Attend the sale.

Immense.

The editor of the Vidette, in his article on the ball of the Ladies' Relief Society, at Tubbs' Hotel, says:

"The Oakland and San Francisco papers speak of this ball as an unusually brilliant affair—the finest of the season—which shows how little they know of Brooklyn society. Why, we have the same brilliant parties here almost every night. It is estimated that one million dollars worth of diamonds, and five hundred thousand dollars worth of lace adorned the persons of the ladies and gentlemen who attended."

Oh! Major George Washington Lafayette Barter, how could you?

Police Court.

In the Police Court this morning, Judge Lentell presiding, the following cases were disposed of: John Kilburn, disturbing the peace, acquitted; Ah Sou, battery, fined $20 or twenty days. In the case of Thos. F. Summers, the action of the Grand Jury took the matter out of this court. Benj. Pointer, drunk, fined $6 or three days; Philip Losana, drunk, $6 or three days; James Lynch, $6 or three days.

Those at Tubbs' Hotel.

The names of eighty ladies, a description of the dresses of forty ladies, and the names of one hundred gentlemen who attended the L. R. S. ball, at Tubbs' Hotel, on the night of June 29th, will appear in the Brooklyn Vidette, of July 14, 1876. Copies can be obtained on that date, at the bookstore of W. B. Hardy, or at Tubbs' Hotel. *

A First-Class House.

We are pleased to say to the people of Oakland, that if they wish any article in the line of furniture, they should by all means call and examine the large and varied stock, plain and fancy, at the Oakland furniture warerooms of Mr. C. Scriber, Nos. 1105 and 1107 Broadway. *

Oaklanders at the Exposition.

The following residents of Oakland were registered at the Pacific Coast Centennial Hall, Philadelphia on the 5th instant: Mrs. J. W. Dodge, Mrs. M. A. Lang, Miss Alice Lang, R. H. Webster (State University.)

Meanness.

Fred Campbell says the meanness of the fellow who stole the molasses off a sick negro's pancakes is only exceeded by he who robbed the desk of the Superintendent of Schools of postage stamps.

Barber Wanted.

The citizens up Broadway, north of Eleventh street complain that if they want to be shaved or have their hair cut or curled they have to come down town for these purposes. Will not some enterprising tousor see to this?

Asphaltum Sidewalk.

The new asphaltum sidewalk on Ninth street, in front of the Nicholl block was completed to-day. It is eighteen feet in width, and the boss of the job thinks it is good to last for twenty years.

Water Improving.

The condition of our city water is fast assuming its usual purity. At this time the Company is taking water from Temescal reservoir as well as from that of San Leandro.

Everybody's Friends.

Mellis Bros., of the Great Eastern Auction House, sell their late invoices of Dry Goods, Shoes, and Carpets, 50 per cent. less than any other house. *

UPPER BROADWAY.

Buildings Now [illegible]g.

Its Business Advantages and Future Prospects.

The several large buildings now in course of erection, in the vicinity of the City Hall are being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. We present some further details respecting these structures, to which reference was made in a previous number of the TRIBUNE on the the corner of

THIRTEENTH AND BROADWAY,

Chas. Jurgens has a large number of men at work on his new brick building, which is to be 100 feet square It will be three stories higher—the lower story will be occupied by four stores—each 25 feet in depth. The upper floors will be used as offices and for hotel purposes. Parties are already making applications, to rent these places. The building will cost $50,000 and it will be completed and occupied by the 1st of October, J. C. Matthews, Esq., is the architect.

OAKLAND BANK OF SAVINGS.

The fine brick building now in progress on the corner of Twelfth and Broadway, is being put up by the Oakland Bank of Savings Company. It has a frontage of fifty-five feet on Broadway, and 100 feet on Twelfth. It will be one of the finest and most costly buildings in Alameda county. The Company will spare neither pains nor expense in its exertion. It will also be three stories high. The bank will occupy the corner of the building, while the other portion of the first floor will be used as a store. The second and third floors will be used as offices. The basement is already completed, and the first tier of flooring joist is laid. The cost of erection will be something over fifty thousand dollars. The bank will contain strong and extensive vaults, and the entire building will be ready for occupation in November.

DELGER'S BUILDING.

Crossing the street we looked over the building now being put up by Mr. Delger on the corner of Fourteenth and Broadway. The owner is not yet decided whether he will or will not make this a three-story building. It has a hundred feet frontage on Broaway and ninety feet on Fourteenth street. The first floor will be used as stores and is already rented throughout for that purpose. It will be ready for occupancy in September.

KASE BUILDING.

On the corner of Sixteenth street and San Pablo avenue Mr. Kase is putting up a large wooden building. It will have a hundred feet frontage on San Pablo avenue. First floor will be occupied as stores, five in number, and the upper floors will be let for offices. Mr. Taylor of this city is the architect for the four last mentioned buildings.

A PLEASANT SIGHT

In the vicinity of the City Hall, where all these elegant places are being hastened forward to completion, the scene is a busy one and and brings a smile of pleasure to the faces of the owners, and is highly pleasing to all others who desire to see Oakland prosper.

FINE LOCATION.

These new buildings are situated in what we think the most valuable business portion of the city. Broadway, upon which they are located is one of our finest thoroughfares. It is traversed by three lines of street railroads—it has sidewalks unsurpassed in San Francisco. Though at present containing some excellent places of business, occupied by enterprising men. In a few years we expect to see them still further improved upon and enlarged.

THE FUTURE.

Broadway in Oakland is similar to Broadway in New York city, and just as the business center has kept moving from the battery further and further up Broadway each decade, so will the business center of Oakland take its slow and certain march up town. But, however, the vicinity of the City Hall being quite central now, and also having the advantage of the junction of diagonal streets, will remain the nucleus, to and from which business houses and streets will cluster and radiate for at least a score of years.

Californians in Paris.

The following Californians had registered their names at the office of Charles Le. Gay, 1 Rue Scribe Paris, June 23d: John M. Mackey and family, Dr. Nuit and family, Captain R. S. Floyd and family, David Bixler and wife, H. M. Heuston and family, Wm. Howard and family, Jas. Freeborn and family, Thomas Newcomb, Mrs. Dr. W. Newcomb, Mr. Meeks, Julius Lezynsky, W. Melvin Smith, Dr. Lane and wife.

New Sidewalk.

Messrs. Harris & Drumm's new building adjoining the market on Twelth street is about completed, they have just finished laying the sidewalk of Pacific Stone Company's manufacture. The building is to be, occupied by Messrs. McCrum & Co. grocers.

Social.

There will be a social held at the First Baptist Church, corner Fourteenth and Brush streets, this evening. A good time is expected. Games, music, singing and other amusements will render the time passed there very pleasant.

Opening of the Schools.

All the public schools will re-open on next Monday morning. Many changes have been made in teachers and the school houses and furniture have been renovated and repaired during vacation.

No Chinamen.

Frank Lorbor would state to the the people of West Oakland that he has no chinamen cooks or waiters at his hotel, the Soracco House; but has the best of white help. *

Will arrive To-night.

Miss A. F. Aldrich, L. D. Hardy and wife, of Oakland will arrive this evening on the overland train.

THERE ARE MANY AGREEABLE peculiarities in the climate of Oakland, among which may be noted the fact that many matrimonial unions that have not been prolific of "little darlings" elsewhere, have, on the removal of the parties to Oakland been blessed with a "quiver full of them," as is demonstrated by the number of high chairs, cradles, etc., sold by Shellhaas, Eleventh street, Odd Fellows' Building.

INGERSOLL'S PHOTOGRAPHIC Gallery is the place to get Photographs, and in fact all styles of pictures known to the Art. All work executed in the best style. Give him a call. No. 1069 Broadway.

THE NATIONAL GOLD MEDAL was awarded to Bradley & Rulofson for the best Photographs in the United States, and the Vienna Medal for the best in the world. Ascend in the Elevator. 429 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

GRAND JURY'S PARTIAL REPORT.

List of True Bills in Criminal Matters—Thistleton Indicted.

The Grand Jury, appointed at the July term of the Court, report to the Hon. Stephen G. Nye, Judge of said Court, that on the following charges against the persons confined in the County Jail, and otherwise brought to our notice, which they have fully examined and thoroughly investigated and find the following bills, to wit:

People vs. Ah Gim—True bill for burglary.

Felix Polinshinsy—Murder.

James Pine, alias Charles Richardson, alias John Roberts—True bills on two charges of burglary, and prior connection on each of said charges.

Chung Wing Joe—Burglary.

John Roberts—Burglary.

Charles Davis—Burglary.

Thomas F. Summers—True bill for burglary, and another for grand larceny.

Louis Strand—True bills for burglary, and assault with a deadly weapon.

T. B. Mortee—Manslaughter.

Thos. Wright, alias George Wilson and John Riley, alias John Wilson—True bill for grand larceny, and also true bill against John Riley for prior conviction.

Geo. Thistleton—Two true bills for libel.

The cases ignored we gave yesterday. The arraigment of prisoners will take place this afternoon in the County Court.

A Loss to be Restored.

The editor of the Vidette thus bewails the withdrawal of the Louise: "For the first time in twenty years Brooklyn is without direct steamer communication with San Francisco. Instead of additional facilities, which we had fondly hoped would be speedily afforded us, the only steamer—the Louise—has been hauled off the route, and the "Capital," which takes its place, only approaches to the foot of Broadway, in Oakland. This looks like retrograding, in a direction where all had hoped for an advance; and we regret that the managers of the C. P. R. R. should in such a manner be thoughtlessly led into aiding Oakland to give us another one of her underhanded, vindictive, envious blows. Not only do our merchants and shippers miss the "Louise," but they find good reason for complaint at the manner in which their goods are mixed up and jammed about with other freight on board the "Capital." Hence it is probable that a movement will be started by our merchants, whereby a small steamer of not less than fifty tons burden will either be built or purchased and put on the Creek route, touching at Broadway, and plying hence to San Francisco.

The East Oakland Democracy.

Pursuant to a call the Democracy of Brooklyn assembled at the Turner's Hall last evening, for the purpose of organizing a Tilden and Hendricks Club. The attendance numbered somewhere in the neighborhood of a hundred of the solidity of the burg. V. S. Northy, the Learned Blacksmith, and Captain Hutchings, aided by numerous members of the club, spoke some upon the subject of the advantageous of the Democratic Party, why Tilden and Hendricks should be upheld, etc. After some hullabaloo the club was organized with Captain Hutchings, as President, and V. S. Northy and Henry Hample, as Vice-Presidents. Numerous bills were presented and referred to the Finance Committee to act upon before the next meeting night—Thursday, July 20th. The call for a meeting was not advertised in any paper but the TRIBUNE, but a most excellent result was effected thereby. A large attendance was had and a good, earnest working club organized.

Astonished and Pleased.

An elderly gentleman was waiting this morning at Broadway for the down train. He informed our reporter that he had spent a day or two in Oakland, looking around more for the sake of passing away his time than for anything else. He said: "I am astonished at the style and number of fine houses I have seen in this place. I could not have believed it. Why, some of them are little palaces. If I had my time to live over again I should locate in Oakland. It is one of the pretiest and best spots I ever met with." The reporter said he thought so too, shook the old gentleman warmly by the hand, skillfully relieved him of what small change he had, and went off on business.

Carpets.

Parties in search of carpets or upholstery of any kind, should call upon Messrs. E. Hook & Co., Broadway, near Twelfth street. They keep constantly on hand a very large assortment of goods of every style and pattern, which they sell at the lowest possible rates. Hook & Co. carry an immense stock of all kinds of furniture, which can always be had at a bargain. Call and see their goods.

Mortee's Case.

T. B. Mortee, who unfortunately killed young Chesholm some two months ago, and was indicted by the Grand Jury at this session, appeared before the Third District Court this morning and gave bail for his appearance in the sum of $5,000, with David T. Bagley and Col. J. C. Hays as security.

Vivian—Holbrook.

Charley Vivian the well-known comic singer, was married in this city on the 9th inst., to Miss Imogene Holbrook formerly of Wade's Opera House. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's sister.

In Paris.

Mrs. Newcomb, wife of D. W. Newcomb, of this city, and her son Tommy Newcomb, late of the San Francisco press, are now in Paris. They are on their way to Germany.

Taken Down.

The arch built across the railroad track at the junction of Seventh and Chester streets for the Fourth of July celebration, was taken down this morning.

Departed.

The ship St. John Smith, which has been loading, left Long Wharf yesterday evening.

YOU WILL ALL FEEL GAY AND happy when you call and get Schellhaas' prices in furniture, Eleventh street.

I SHALL STRIKE THEE WITH A Tack. Upholstering of all kinds at Schellhaas, Eleventh street, Odd Fellows' Hall.

BACON'S PALACE OF SWEETS, 965 Broadway, is the place to get a box of fine home-made or French Candies. They are received daily, per Bacon's Express, from five of the prominent makers in San Francisco.

FOUND, AT ELEVENTH STREET, Odd Fellows' Building, the cheapest and best place to have your furniture repaired.

EAST OAKLAND ITEMS.

[From the Vidette.]

Through the energies of Frank Moffitt, assisted by the cash power of certain leading Democrats, a Tilden and Hendricks banner stretches its flowing folds across East Twelfth street.

The Democratic citizens of the Seventh Ward held a meeting last night at Turner Hall. The object sought was the formation of a Tilden and Hendricks Club.

The Swett school-house has been adorned with a coating of white paint, and is much improved in appearance thereby.

A new and stylish fence has been constructed along the front of the residence of A. W. Swett, Esq., on Thirteenth avenue.

The ground for the new Convent was purchased about thirty days ago, and as soon as a little more of the "wherewith" is forthcoming, the process of building will be commenced.

One of the pleasantest little parties it has been our good fortune to attend, took place on Friday night last at the Eastern Hotel, Brooklyn, it being the birthday of Mrs. Mariante, the accomplished wife of the proprietor. Excellent music and a most bountiful supper was provided, and the evening passed away in bewitching dances and social intercourse. Several of the most charming young ladies of the city were present, as well as a sufficient number of young gentlemen of respectable standing. In fact, there was just that number and kind which makes up the spirit and success of an evening party, and causes the participants to sincerely hope to meet again soon.

Suit was brought in the case of Tompkins vs. Crane three years ago for a one-third interest in a tract of 1,000 varas, being that portion of Brooklyn lying between the Clinton Mills and the Jute Factory, and extending out to Seventeenth avenue. The case was at that time decided by Judge McKee in favor of the plaintiff. Appeal being taken, this decision was reversed by the Supreme Court and cause remanded for trial. The final trial took place two weeks ago, and Tuesday last Judge McKee decided in favor of the defendant, W. W. Crane, Jr.

A social reunion was held at Odd Fellows Hall last evening by Clinton Lodge I. O. G. T., of Brooklyn. The attendance was large and the entertainment successful in every way. Clinton Lodge is a new organization, and seems to be flourishing. At its last regular meeting nine new members were initiated.

The following officers were installed for the ensuing term for Brooklyn Lodge No. 32, Knights of Pythias, on July 7th: S. Osborne, P. C.; W. H. Hamilton, C. C.; A. W. Cutler, V. C.; J. L. Roundy, Jr. Prelate; Geo. Lewis, Jr., K. R. S.; H. G. Oliver, M. of F., F. Schimmelpfennig, Sr., M. of E.; H. H. Colby, M. at A.; Jos. Hawthorne, I. G.; J. W. Glaze, O. G.

BALDWIN
...AND...
CLARA BALDWIN

Spiritualism Exposed!

Indorsed by Upwards of One Thousand Prominent Divines, Editors, Literati and Notables.

$500 Challenge!!

Prof. Baldwin will Perform by HUMAN AGENCY

All the startling manifestations of the most famous mediums who claim the same tests, given under the same conditions, to be accomplished by aid of Spirits.

What PROF. BALDWIN will positively do.

Foster!

I will cause blood letter, at the will of the audience, to appear upon my naked arm.

Jennie Holmes' Transmutation!!

I will cause water to turn to wine and wine back to water, in full view of the audience.

The Great Handcuff Test!

I challenge any officer of the law or medium to bring to my seance the newest and best patent handcuffs.

Materialization!

I will fully duplicate the famous Katie King apparition; showing spirit faces, which are often recognized by the audience.

Clairvoyancy!

I will give clairvoyant tests unequalled by any medium. Clara Baldwin, while in a trance state, will reveal the past, present and future.

The Famous Pillory Test!

I will be locked by the committee head and hands in a pillory, and the keyhole filled with sealing-wax, and I will escape in thirty seconds without breaking a seal.

Davenport Bros!

I will allow a committee of four gentlemen (selected from the audience) to tie me with ropes, and I will escape inside of one minute. I will produce, while tied, the most wonderful manifestations.

Fay Outdone!

The committee will bind me, hand and foot, and while in this condition a coat from the back of one of the audience will be transferred to my back, and after being sewed securely together at the neck and cuffs, will be instantaneously and in full view of the audience, returned by some unseen power to its owner. Not a knot untied or a seal broken.

Challenge to Mediums!

I unequivocally and without reservation pronounce the so-called phenomena of Spiritualism humbuggery, and denounce mediums, one and all, as frauds! Notwithstanding that Spiritualists claim that Clara Baldwin and myself are mediums, I hereby agree to wager the sum of $500 or more, that I can fully, completely and satisfactory, perform or expose any manifestations of so-called spirit power which I am permitted to witness three times.
(Signed). PROF. S. S. BALDWIN,
Exposer of Spiritualism.

REDUCTION IN GAS.

Important to Landlords and Gas Consumers.

SAFETY AND ECONOMY.

OFFICE OAKLAND GASLIGHT CO., February 1, 1875.

IN PURSUANCE OF THE POLICY followed by this Company since its formation; viz.: to lower its rates as rapidly as is warranted by the growth of the city, the price of gas will be reduced on the

1st Day of March Next

—TO—

$4 25 PER 1,000 CUBIC FEET.

Considering the value of coal and labor, the limited use of gas, and the distance between the places of consumption,

Oakland will be the most cheaply lighted city in the Union.

This price will leave no valid excuse for the use of any illuminant but Coal Gas, along the lines of the Company's mains, a large part of which are now, and have been since they were laid, unproductive of income.

The advantages to be reaped by the public from Cheap Gas are—

1st.—A daily saving in the cost of one of the necessaries of life.

2d.—A decrease in the number of destructive fires caused by the use of the volatile distillates of Petroleum.

3d.—A saving of human life by substituting stationary lights for brittle lamps.

4th.—The most convenient and safest light brought within the means of the most economical household.

However small the house, the economy will be great. If insured, the rate of premium will be lessened; if not insured, the risk of loss will be decreased.

This reduction can only be profitable to the Company, by the accession of a sufficient number of new consumers to compensate for the lessening of its current receipts; and it will become the interest of all consumers of gas, to induce their neighbors to adopt this light, in order that further reductions may be made in the future.

The attention of consumers is also directed to the use of gas for heating and cooking. In Europe and the Eastern cities it has been adopted to a great extent and its use is constantly extending.

It is to be hoped that this movement will be accepted in the spirit which has inspired it, and which has always characterized the Company, viz.:

That the Interests of Consumers and the Company are Identical.

The Company are constantly advised of all changes in modes of manufacture and distribution, and will at all times avail itself of any real improvements which tend to improve quality and lessen price.

V. L. EASTLAND, Superintendent.

Oakland Evening Tribune

FRIDAY..........JULY 14, 1876

An Example for the Young.

Old Uncle Billy Newcomb was one of the keenest Yankees that ever lived in the Old Gum Tree State, and if any one ever got the start of him he had to get up before daylight. It happened one time that he had a young minister domiciled with him, said minister being somewhat extravagant, and, withal rather delinquent in settling his just debts. And it came to pass in due season that Uncle Billy found himself his creditor to the amount of $93 for rations furnished, and a very slim prospect of seeing the amount liquidated, the parish owing the parson not a cent. Was the good old man discouraged, and did he tear around swearing like pizen? Not much. He very quietly went around among the pastor's friends in the parish and proposed that some sort of a benefit be given in the hall for the aforesaid parson. On the appointed night, Uncle Billy, who had pulled the wires satisfactorily, was to be seen at the door taking in the quarters and halves, while smiles quietly chased each other across his beaming countenance. The receipts amounted to just $95. two of which he turned over to the minister, and stowing the balance in his capacious pocket, at the same time advising him to be looking for quarters elsewhere. Thus may our young men learn wisdom and patience from their elders.

Another Tradition Demolished.

The London Court Journal, denies that the American custom of wearing citizens clothes at court had any better origin than accident. It says that the fact that the American Minister always appears at court in plain clothes instead of in the usual regulation costume is due, not to the republican squeamishness of Benjamin Franklin, as is generally supposed, but to the laziness of Benjamin Franklin's tailor. Said tailor disappointed Franklin of the very gorgeous court dress he ordered, and he had no alternative but to appear in ordinary clothes. He was shrewd enough to make a very great merit of what was to him a very unpleasant necessity. The fame of the Republican's courage rang out through the world and from that time downward the American Ministers have claimed as a privilege what was originally a disagreeable accident.

Old Maids.

The New York Ledger comes to the rescue of old maids as follows: "Shriveled and withered you say they are! Men and women grow old and grow gray whether married or single; but many an old maid lingers to-day on this mundane sphere who would have died long ago, an unhappy but popular and admired wife, had she consented to marry some man whom she did not love, but despise, and said 'Yes' where conscience and God commanded her to say 'No.' Long live old maids, and let no woman, from the fear of becoming one, ever willfully and deliberately sacrifice herself. It is the next crime to suicide."

—"George," said a maiden as she smiled archly in her lover's face, "what is there in a grand achievement that reminds me of you?" George's eye lit with pleasure, and there was a loving tenderness in the glance with which he replied: "Now, darling; please tell me." "Big feet," replied the maiden. She now flattens her nose aginst the window-pane and wonders whether George has committed suicide or gone to China.
